

Position Title: K-12 Education Policy Director

About Children First

Children First (formerly Public Citizens for Children & Youth, PCCY) is a regional policy/advocacy organization devoted to improving the lives and life chances of children by defining and building public will behind policies that increase opportunity and address educational and health inequities, racism, structural barriers to upward mobility and family instability. Children First is a fast-paced organization that uses research, people power, and coalition building to create the momentum for reform of public policies that enable more children to grow up healthy, well-educated, and ready to take the reins of their communities.

Position Summary

Children First plays a leadership role in setting and advancing local and state policy priorities that improve the quality of education available to students attending public schools, particularly within the lowest wealth school districts in the state; these school districts educate a majority of the state's Black, Hispanic and low-income students who benefit from our advocacy.

To advance our priorities, Children First builds new narratives for education reform, sets a strategy to put those reforms in place, and strategically engages leaders, residents, and youth to advocate for reforms.

Our work is built on the premise that we must improve racial equity as we reform public schools and that to do so requires building bi-partisan support for reforms among the lawmakers in southeastern Pennsylvania in ways that enable lawmakers in other regions of the state to support these efforts. We have a forty-year track record of success and a highly effective staff to which we are eager to add a highly motivated, experienced professional with advanced policy development and advocacy skills to lead our Education Team.

Key Duties:

- Lead the development and implementation of advocacy strategies to advance state and local level K-12 policy priorities
- Craft compelling messaging documents including reports, briefs, commentaries, and fact sheets and regularly make public speeches/presentations to increase the public discourse to support the policy reforms
- Draft and present testimony to legislative bodies on key k12 policy issues including privatization, school finance/funding, racial equity, and teacher quality,
